Kerr Summarizes Reports On Cost Of Operating City Of Campbell

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a summary of several of the reports submitted for publication by Leslie Kerr, member of the taxation and revenue sub-committee of the committee for Campbell incorporation. Kerr is a veteran of thirty years experience as a statistical research accountant for the federal government and has had extensive experience in preparing reports of a similar nature. The Press has received favorable comment on the Kerr reports from city officials as far south as Los Angeles county. A reputable engineering firm has stated that were they to prepare a comparable report, they would be forced to charge a minimum fee of $2,000. No one has expressed any doubt on the figures and content of Kerr's series of reports and the Press believes them accurate beyond reason of doubt.

By LESLIE KERR

You, as a taxpayer, wish to know what it will cost IF, the town of Campbell becomes a sixth-class city.

The answer is—"It all depends on you and your neighbors." Like buying at the home grocery, the cost will depend on your choice and the judgment and care exercised in making your purchases. It is conditioned on how much thought and attention you give to civic matters affecting the welfare of your community.

The five men or women you elect as a city council will manage and operate your city. If you select incompetents they will make many costly mistakes and you as a taxpayer will have to pay the bill. If you select spendthrifts just because they are "jolly-good-fellows" you can rest assured that the cost will be high.

Which shall it be? The rule of the people or the rule of the few. Or, would you prefer to obey an absentee autocrat whose power is unrestricted and irresponsible?

You will have to use the ballot to attain any "rule of the people." If there isn't enough earnest resolve to start you on the way to the polls, you can rest assured of getting "rule of the few." Any resident of Campbell who knowingly, willingly, completely, and entirely shirks his duty as an American is making it possible to obtain and maintain "autocratic rule" in this community.

Dreams of making Campbell a metropolis overnight or intending to erect municipal structures rivaling those of L. A. are visionary; it can't be done through levy of local taxes. If you allow some "interested party" to inveigle you into approving the construction of a magnificent and needless city hall, don't complain about high taxes. If you are going to demand metropolitan services and clamor for a lucrative "job" for yourself and family at city expenses, where do you think the city will get the money to meet these entreaties? From you, mister taxpayer, and you alone.

Some of the opponents of incorporation say they moved to Campbell to get away from city congestion and that they are afraid of being "fenced in" if Campbell is incorporated as a city. Then why did they settle in a fast-growing neighborhood? Did they actually think they could prevent others from erecting homes near them? They should think up a more convincing tale, for their actions belie their words. Honestly, do they really think "home rule" is objectionable and that it will add congestion to their immediate vicinity? Or, is it a simple case of being an "anti"?

The cost of governng a community like the town of Campbell appears about equal for equal services whether under city, special district or county operation. But, as an unincorporated community, Campbell will be entirely dependent upon the action or inaction of the county board of supervisors. And in fact, it is quite unlikely the county officials will even desire to furnish or ever have adequate facilities and personnel available for performing all desired city services.

The people of Campbell cannot reasonably expect any improvement in local conditions from remote control by absentee administrators. Why should the county supervisors give preferred attention to a community which is not willing to look after its own welfare?

Yes, it is true that city government usually and eventually costs more due to increased demand of the people for additional and superior services. Yet, is it not logical to assume and expect to secure greater efficiency and more economy in costs of services under local control than is likely to result from apathetic rulers? You do not regret having installed modern conveniences and appliances in your home? Then why are you so adverse to providing city-comfort and organized-protection for your children and their playmates? Frankly, have you given mature consideration to the benefits to be obtained for such little effort on your part?

It would appear possible to secure a tax rate on city property at a somewhat lower rate than is probable under Santa Clara County management, at least until such time as Campbell residents become dissatisfied with nominal services, and demand maximum services and superior facilities. More especially, if and when the county is required by law to charge unincorporated communities for services, the cost for which is now included in the general county budget. In any event, the county simply cannot afford to furnish services naturally required by a community the size of Campbell.

Campbell as a sixth-class city will not be permitted, under state law, to exceed a city tax rate of one dollar per $100 of assessed value. No minimum tax rate is specified as is evidenced by lower rates of other California cities.

As a matter of fact, none of the seventeen cities incorporated during the period from July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1950 received any property-tax monies during the first period of their operation, neither will Campbell under provisions of present laws. In addition, many of these newly incorporated communities did not even expend all monies received from state grants.

The assessed value of the proposed Campbell city area is approximately $5,500,000. Which, at a legal maximum city tax rate of $1.00 per $100 of assessed valuation, would produce, after deducting exemption allowances of veterans and others, around $50,000 annually as city income.

After incorporation, the city of Campbell will receive from the State of California, in subventions and grants from state collected revenues, approximately $6.86 for each man, woman and child residing in the city area. If, the population (based on three times the number of registered voters) numbers 8,000, then the city of Campbell would have received in the neighborhood of $54,800 during he year ending June 30, 1952.

The $6.86 is composed of: $2.87 from gasoline taxes; $3.69 from motor vehicle license fees; and, $0.30 under the alcoholic beverage control act. The gasoline and vehicle items were secured from the State Controller's office and are estimates made by the Division of Highways. The 30 cent item was obtained from various sources. In this connection, the reader should understand that amouts will vary

'Cultivate Ideals,' Dr. Rugh Tells Kiwanis

America will have to increase its emphasis on national ideals if it is to win China, stated Dr. Dwight D. Rugh, of Los Gatos, who recently returned from 20 years' service in China, where he was the only American in an American-sponsored hospital in Changsha, capital of Hunan province. "The Chinese are subjected to Communist propaganda 24 hours a day, and every man, woman and child every day attends a two-hour class, where the ideals of Communism are discussed, and where the United States is denounced as an agent of business imperialism," said Dr. Rugh, who was guest speaker of the Campbell Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon.

The Chinese are now producing radios, and a reasonably good set can be purchased for 50 cents gold. Government radio stations day and night drive home the communist propaganda. Sound trucks continually pass through the city streets blaring out the message of communism. Communist officials, said the speaker, are clever, and plan ahead, and have shown efficiency and honesty in governmental affairs. However, said the speaker, it would be unwise in his opinion to recognize the Communist regime, because it is impossible to do business with Communism. The heads of the government are Communists, and give words an entirely different meaning from that of the western world. Communism means a police state and complete loss of individual liberty.

For example, he said Mao Tse Tumg explained his term of a "Democratic Dictatorship" by limiting the term "people" to those who would implicitly follow Communist orders. All other would be liquidated as "enemies of the People."

Asked if there was any hope of Chaing Kai Shek appointing competent officials free from graft, he said in South China, there was considerable hope expressed. From his own experience in Hunan, Dr. Rugh said he doubted if the Chinese people would ever again support Chang, due to lack of faith in him.

"We must cultivate ideals, and tell the rest of the world the blessings of liberty, freedom of conscience, and the other advantages we enjoy. As it is now, the East is converted to neither communism nor to the Western civilization. They are just waiting. It is well to remember that despite what their leaders say, the people of China do like the people of the United States."

Dr. Dan Clark, recently returned from a tour of duty on the Korean front, was guest of the club and spoke briefly on some of the war conditions in Korea. He stated that contrary to many news releases, American soldiers were not overly equipped and that in many cases fought with as little equipment as did the South Korean troops.

John Duncan, principal of Moorpark Grammar school was inducted into the club as a new member at the meeting. Duncan was born in Campbell and has resided in the area all his life.

Next week's meeting will be an inter-club meeting with the Campbell Rotary and Lions Clubs Tuesday evening at the Country Woman's Club building.

Rotary Hears Talk By Business Dean

Members of the Campbell Rotary Club heard Charles Dirksen, Dean of Business Education at Santa Clara University speak on business problems at their Monday noon meeting. Dirksen told his audience that the most important things in today's business picture are the small unoticed things which often spell the difference between success and failure; the fact that the basic outlook of a business should be the service offered; understanding the application of business theories; and employee-employer relationship. He mentioned that leadership was the most important factor in employee relationship and stated that the employer should consider the wants and needs of employees. He stated that the mood of the employee was the basic factor in learning.

Memoers were reminded of the joint meeting with the Lions and Kiwanis clubs to be held next Tuesday night at the Country Woman's Club house at 6:30 p.m.

Second Youth Is Sentenced To Six Months In Jail

Tom Duffy, Pollard Road, Campbell, was sentenced to six months in the county jail Monday afternoon by Judge Martin S. Walsh following charges of battery brought against the youth by Ed Kling, custodian at Campbell high school. Another youth, Raymond Van Gunden, was given a like sentence last week following his plea of guilty. A third, William Reaves, was acquited and a juvenile was referred to juvenile authorities.

Kling had charged that the group had attacked and beaten him on the night of October 12 while he was patroling cars parked in front of the high school. According to Kling, he was kicked and beaten when he tried to stop a fight between one of the group and another boy in the area.

Hallowe'en Feast

Purpose of the tour will be to gain books for use in the Moreland school library. Residents are asked to give books suitable for children from the age of 5 through 13. No comic books will be accepted. The dinner will be held at the home of Mrs. Noel Catto on Quito Road.

6½-MILLION DOLLAR STATE HIGHWAY WILL BE ROUTED THROUGH CAMPBELL; TO HAMITON AVENUE VIA CREEK BANK

Plans for a new $6,500,000 freeway along part of the Santa Cruz-San Jose highway to run through Campbell were made known by the California Highway Commission in Sacramento this week. In stating its intention of rerouting and four-laning 6.5 miles of State Sign Route 17 between Los Gatos and Campbell, the Commission also announced that plans included declarations of this section of road as a freeway.

Other portions of State Sign Route 17 already declared as freeways include the section from Campbell to San Jose and a two-mile stretch south of Los Gatos. The latter project is already under construction.

As provided by law, the highway project will be paid for out of state funds and all costs of construction and maintenance are included in regular state taxes. Should Campbell become incorporated, portions of the highway might be placed under the control of local police and in such a case, a certain percentage of fines collected from the highway would be returned to the city of Campbell.

As a result of the Commission's announcement State Highway Engineer George T. McCoy has been asked to consult with city and county authorities to determine if they wish the Commission to hold a hearing before final action is taken. Representatives of Los Gatos, San Jose and Santa Clara county may meet with the commission. Campbell proper will have no representation, due to the fact that Campbell has no municipal status.

In a report to the commission, highway engineers point out that the present traffic load far exceeds the intended capacity of the highway. Growing residential development around Los Gatos and Campbell and a large amount of tourist traffic between Santa Cruz and the Bay area are adding to the problem.

Weekend counts during the summer months already exceed 20,000 cars a day. State traffic experts predict increases of as much as 150 percent by 1970.

Adding to the congestion are numerous private driveways and county roads which intersect the road north of Los Gatos.

Traffic surveys show that most accidents occur at these intersections, particularly at the junction of State Route 42 with State Sign Route 17 in Los Gatos. Although not excessive, accident rates are still slightly above the state average for this type road.

The Santa Cruz-San Jose highway was originally built by the state in 1916. It has been improved several times since that date.

7-Unit Shopping Center Planned On Rosemary Lane

Plans are now underway for the construction of a five to seven unit shopping center on the corner of Rosemary Lane and Winchester Road. The move, under the sponsorship of Vincent Carbone, San Jose Realtor, was given the green light by county planners at a meeting held last week.

Carbone plans to build a structure which will house between five and seven businesses with additional parking space. In addition, two other business corners at the location are open for development. Carbone stated that original plans for the center were formulated four years ago but that planners had delayed their decision on rezoning the property until plans were further developed.

Carbone stated that he is seeking an experienced operator to take over one of the open corners in the shopping center for the development of a super market.

Construction of the center will involve widening of Winchester Road in the locality. Architects for preliminary plans submitted to the county planners last week were Kocher, Logue and Walter.

Carbone stated that plans have not yet been completed on the cost and type of construction involved.

SCHOOL PLANS HALLOWE'EN FETE

A Halloween parade followed by refreshments will be held at Moorpark School Wednesday for pupils of both morning and afternoon sessions. The parade and refreshments are sponsored by the Moorpark Men's Club. Ruth Allen is chairman for the affair.

SERVICE FUND DRIVE REACHES 25 PERCENT MARK AFTER FOUR WEEKS

With four weeks already gone in the Campbell Community Service Fund Drive, contributions total approximately 25 percent of the the $14,000 goal, with a total of $3,500 collected to date. Eugene Barnes, general chairman of the drive stated that the low amount collected to date indicates a lack of interest on the part of some of the area residents toward worthy community organizations. He pointed out that after less than five weeks in the 1950 campaign, 75 percent of the goal or $7,335 had been collected.

Barnes also cited the results of other nearby communities in nearing completion of their drives. "Saratoga has contributed 87 percent of its $5,400 goal in just three weeks," he said, "and Los Gatos has reached 42 percent of its $10,000 goal in only ten days. Unless greater interest is shown in the drive, we may fall far short of our goal."

Barnes pointed out that 99 percent of all funds collected go directly to local, worthy organizations with only a minor amount being spent on office supplies and secretarial help.

Posse Raids Local Restaurant

A combined posse of sheriff's deputies, state liquor agents and Navy shore patrolmen raided the Barvarian Gardens on Union Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road early Saturday night in a quest for juvenile drinkers and violators of after hours liquor sales laws.

The establishment was entered by the men at 3 a. m. Officers stated that they found eight patrons and a supply of whiskey. The place operates under a beer license. No arrests were made but charges were filed against the establishment.

SHIRLEY GOLDEN BECOMES BRIDE OF CHARLES KEESLING IN CANDLELIGHT CEREMONY

Flickering candlelight filled the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel Tuesday evening, October 16, when Miss Shirley Joyce Golden became the bride of Charles Burke Keesling in a double ring ceremony. The tiny chapel was filled with the scent of the golden and bronze chrysanthemums as the young couple said their vows before Dr. K. Filmore Grey.

The bride wore an off-white faille suit with black velvet trim and matching black velvet accessories and carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by pink carnations with long white ribbon streamers.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Patricia Golden, who chose a light grey suit for the occasion and carried a yellow carnation bouquet with yellow ribbon streamers.

Serving the groom as best man was Donald Countryman. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Rudolph G. Golden. "Because" was sung previous to the ceremony and the "Lord's Prayer" during the service by John Farr, accompanied by the chapel organ.

Mrs. Golden, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Joe S. Keesling, the benedict's mother, both wore gray suits accented with white carnation corsages for the service. Only immediate members of both families were present to witness the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Immediately following the wedding, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon to southern California, with the bridegroom reporting to Camp Stoneman Monday, October 29, for two years duty overseas with the Air Force, in which he holds the rank of Pfc.

Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph G. Golden of Campbell, and was graduated last June from Campbell Union High School.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Keesling, was graduated from the Campbell Union High School two years ago and served as an apprentice carpenter prior to enlisting in the Air Force. He is trained in the communications field since his induction nine months ago.

The first Juvenile Protection Workshop of the sixth district Parent-Teachers Association opened October 15 under the direction of Director of Public Welfare, Mrs. Clarence Fagalde.

Rev. Marvin Stuart told those in attendance of his experiences in Rome and stated that the decay of the ancient nation was due primarily to the lack of morality among its citizens rather than to external forces. He drew comparisons between the gradual decay of ideals in Rome and some of the events which are taking place in America today, and stated that the church and the clergy must take a firm and responsible stand. He said that counseling should be provided for the youth of America and emphasized the necessity of beginning at home and providing good examples and advice for younger people.

Dr. W. G. Closson gave a talk on "Are Parents to be Blamed for Everything?" and stated that parents were answerable to themselves.

Deputy Sheriff Julius Heeschen spoke on the educational work which his office has been doing and commented on several films which his office has made available to both parents' and children' groups.

Next meeting of the workshop will be held at 9:15 in Schofield Hall in the San Jose YWCA building November 8. Petitions For Light District Near Completion Petitions for the formation of a Quito-Workman lighting district lack approximately sixty signers in order to have the needed 50 percent of home owners necessary to submit the petition to the county board of supervisors for action. Mrs. P. L. Drew of Bucknall Avenue, heading the drive with Mrs. Guy Boltze, stated this week that they expect submission of the petitions to the supervisors within a short time.

"We have had very good reception on our move to form a lighting district," she said, "and expect to subimt the petitions to the board of supervisors within a short time."

Petition calls for the formation of a tax-supported lighting district of approximately 70 lights with more to be added as the need arises.

Following submission of petitions to the board of supervisors, the board calls a protest hearing at which time opponents of the move, if any, may voice their reasons for disapproval of the district. Should the supervisors approve the district, the measure would then be sent to the State Board of Equalization for entry on tax rolls. Providing the board of Equalization receives the request before February, 1952, lights could be in operation on or after July 1, 1952.

A spokesman for the group stated that boundaries were formed in such a way as to exclude the ranches in the area.

Members of the First Baptist Church and other friends surprised Pastor Edward Townsen and family Friday evening with an informal house warming, at which time they presented the pastor's family with a lovely set of California pottery.

The friends brought their own refreshments and remained for a period of fellowship and singing.

American Business Behind The Scenes

BY REYNOLDS KNIGHT

The nation's retailers are beginning to brighten up a bit. Plagued with over-heavy inventories and consumer apathy for the past several months, the merchants are now looking forward to the Christmas season with something akin to hopefulness.

Most retailers say they are expecting a good Christmas trade. Business may not be as good as last Christmas, which benefited from the second round of the Korean war inspired "scare buying," but most businessmen can foresee a fairly prosperous season ahead.

One of the things heartening the merchants is the big boom in sales over Columbus Day—traditionally regarded as the "kick-off" date for the winter season and an indication of how Christmas sales should go. Some retailers, in fact, reported sales over the Columbus Day weekend as "phenomenal."

GAS FROM COAL—If you have ever considered the problem of what fuel—gas, oil or coal—you should use in your home, store or plant, there comes a gleam of light on the somewhat cloudy picture.

Speaking before the American Gas Association last week in St. Louis, Frederic O. Hess, retiring president of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, proposed a cooperative research effort by the gas, coal and oil industries, to culminate in the construction of a great conversion-plant system to make gas, gasoline and fuel oil from coal.

These plants, to be constructed at strategic points along present natural gas pip lelnes, would convert coal into a gas which could be mixed with natural gas to improve combustion performance and insure a steady supply. They would have storage capacity for the gas, to take care of seasonal fluctuations in demand. Furthermore, the plants could produce gasoline during summer months, when gasoline demand is high and gas demand low, and at the same time could produce fuel oil from coal, which could be stored for peak winter demands.

Los Gatos Man Retains Post

Marc J. Vertin of Los Gatos was re-elected President of the Santa Clara County Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the annual business meeting of the Council held in San Jose, Tuesday evening, October 17.

President Vertin is a veteran Scouter of the Council, having started his Scouting career as a Boy Scout in 1912. He later became Assistant Scoutmaster, then Scoutmaster of Troop 2, Los Gatos, and has held many prominent positions in the Council during the years. He was elected President of the Council in 1948 and has served in this capacity since that date. He was awarded he Silver Beaver by the National Council for outstanding service to youth in 1940.

Other officers elected to serve for the ensuing year are: Vice President Judge John D. Foley and Rabbi Iser L. Freund of San Jose, Stanley Ellis of Sunnyvale, Charles E. Moore of Los Gatos and Laurence Hill of Campbell; Treasurer, Robert F. Benson; Counsel, Marshall Hall; Council Commissioner, Milton P. Ryder and Secretary, C. D. Bartlett.

Representatives to the National Council will be Marshall S. Hall R. C. Groesback and Hans Christian Adamson.

Reports from the District Chairman and Council Operating Committees were presented. The Council now has 3,204 active Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers organized in 117 different Units, according to reports presented. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the Council.

Harold Alvord, Deputy Regional Scout Executive from Los Angeles, was the guest speaker of the evening. He told of the National Council's Three-Year Program to be instituted January 1, 1952. "The 2,800,000 boys and adults as active members of the Boys Scouts of America throughout the nation are entering a three-year Crusade to make the Boy, the Scout Movement, and our Nation physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight to insure the continuance of the American Way of Life," declared Mr. Alvord.

Mrs. A. Lassen Heads Local TB Stamp Campaign

Mrs. Andrew Lassen has accepted the chairmanship of the Christmas Seal Sale for the Campbell area. Mrs. Lassen, a member of the board of directors and executive committee of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association, will have charge of all publicity for the sale in the Campbell area. Solicitation as usual, will be through the mail which this year will reach 100,000 residents of Santa Clara County.

While expressing deep gratification over the number of Santa Clara county residents who are offering their services for the 1951 Seal Sale campaign, Frank Lewis, president, said today that many more volunteers are needed.

The 1951 Christmas Seal Sale will be conducted in Santa Clara County by the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association from November 19 to December 25. Funds from the sale of Christmas Seals will be used to support the tuberculosis control work of the association. This year's Christmas Seal Sale is the 45th annual Christmas Seal Sale to be conducted in this country and the 41st in the county.

Those who have already volunteered, Lewis added, represented all age groups and occupations, including students, housewives, businessmen, and working girls. Many of the volunteers make Christmas Seal work a regular annual activity at this time of year, according to Lewis, although there are many new recruits this year.

Assisting at headquarters of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association are San Jose State college students including Associated Women, Pan Hellenic, Newman Club, Christian Assembly, Scouts, San Jose Women's Club, high school girls and many others.

MORELAND SCHOOL REGISTERED AS OFFICIAL HISTORICAL LANDMARK

William Abeloe, young Saratoga resident who makes a hobby of studying historical landmarks, reported this week that he has secured the registration of he Moreland school as an official hisorical landmark with the State Department of Natural Resources, Division of Beaches and Parks. In the following article, Abeloe reviews some of the highlights of the Moreland school along with that of Gubserville school which was formerly located between Campbell and Saratoga.

"The Moreland school comes first chronologically, as it predates Gubserville by many, many years. Its registration number is 489, which, though it is a later number than that of Gubserville, has nothing to do with the age as they began registering these landmarks in 1931 or 1932 and take them when some interested person sends them in, as Mr. Abeloe does.

Moreland is probably the oldest rural school district in the state, no other with an earlier date has been found so far. It was established in 1851 as a subscription school, classes being held in private homes. Its first teacher was Charles Lafowlette.

In the latter part of 1852, there was a meeting of the citizenry of the area to plan for a schoolhouse. Zechariah Moreland, one of the local residents, proposed to sell his home for the school and offered a most generous deal. He would sell for $300.00 and would give $50.00 of it himself. The house would have to be converted into a school. Much of the work fell to Samuel Curtis Rogers, who followed Abraham H. Featherman as teacher, thus becoming the third teacher. Mr. Rogers serves from September, 1852, to June 1854. It was he who was instrumental in getting this building and the school then became part of the California Public school system.

In 1853, the school became known as Santa Clara Township School District Number 2. In 1862, it was renamed Moreland school after its generaus benefactor. Since then there have been at least four schools. In 1894, the third school building, which was recently torn down, was built. The modern school now under construction is number four.

On July 5, 1882, a postoffice was established at Gubserville, registration mark 477, and discontinued on April 15, 1899. The actual distribution came by stage route from there. The postmaster was Frank Gubser, and he owned and ran, besides the postoffice, a saloon and barber shop. He was a barber by trade. His place was called Gubser's Half-Way House. The Postoffice was a little lean-to adjoining the saloon.

The actual Gubser blacksmith shop was owned and run by W. Forbes, and was a short distance southwest of the Gubser building. The blacksmith shop was in operation before Gubser came and this sort of paved the way for the place. Forbes was in residence in 1876. There is an old map — a Thompson and West Atlas of Santa Clara County, published in 1876, showing this. This is quite authoritative and provides much information of the county.

W. Forbes had his home, which is still standing and is the only one of those buildings left. That home is now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Drake and is the site of the old smithy.

The Drake home has its original flooring and floor joists of native redwood. In fact, the whole house is constructed of native redwood and is in excellent condition. It is a seven-room, two story structure. Old fashioned square type nails were used.

The most striking feature of the inside is the living room with its seven doors.

The community never amounted to anything except as a stop for teamsters and mail route and was the focal point for miles around for such things as groceries, etc. The postoffice was discontinued in 1899 and five years later, the interurban railroad was built from San Jose to Sartaoga (Drake's tore down the blacksmith shop in 1922). But the Drake place was always referred to by travelers as the Gubserville stop. When the postoffice was discontinued, the town folded up.

Saratoga Lions Hear Martin S. Walsh Speak

Martin S. Walsh told members of the Saratoga Lions Club of some of the common misconceptions and fallacies of natural history when he appeared as a guest speaker before the club at their Tuesday noon meeting. The Campbell judge told the group of some of the more common misconceptions including the fact that modern science has proved that the ostrich does not hide his head in the sand when frightened; that the belief that the hoop snake takes its tail in its mouth and rolls along in the shape of a hoop is a fallacy; and that the rattlesnake does not give a warning rattle before striking, but merely uses its rattle as a nervous reaction. Walsh has made a hobby of studying some of the common beliefs and disproving misconceptions.

School Observes UN Week Here

United Nations Week was observed at Campbell Grammar School on Wednesday with seventh grade students presenting the story of the world organization and the Crusade for Freedom in talks to eighth grade classes.

Following the talks, the students were asked to bring small contributions as their donations for a fountain which will be dedicated at United Nations headquarters in 1952. Children from all countries of the world are making contributions to build the fountain.

ACTION BY MORELAND SCHOOL GROUPS BRINGS TRAFFIC CONTROL MOVES

Action on the part of officials and parents of the Moreland school district has brought about several safety measures designed to protect school children from traffic hazards on their way to and from school. County road crews have constructed a special bicycle walk-way along Payne Avenue for children riding bicycles and walking to school; a crossing guard has been posted at the school from 8 to 9 a.m. in the morning and again from 2:45 to 3:45 in the afternoon; and trees along the approach to the school have been pruned to provide better visibility.

In a letter to the county board of supervisors and the county road commissioner last week, the trustees of the school asked that he Saratoga-Santa Clara Road be zoned to 35 miles per hour for a section of 1½ miles on each sile of the school with warning signs placed an additional half mile further out. The letter also requested that a traffic island be erected at the intersection of Saratoga-Santa Clara Road and Payne Avenue to prevent cars from turning into the wrong traffic lane. Mrs. Gussie Baker, principal, reports that two cars and two trucks have crashed into the school fence in recent months as a result of turning into the wrong traffic lane. She stated that all school children have been forbidden to enter the area and that the school has constructed a bunker to protect portions of the school ground from cars which lose control on the corner. The letter also asked that a flashing yellow overhead light be erected which could be used by school authorities when buses are entering and leaving the school grounds.

Mrs. Baker states that the Moreland Parent-Teachers Association, the Moreland Men's Club and the Quito Club are cooperating with school authorities in securing additional safety measures.

The school has increased its student safety education program and all students are required to have written permission from their parents before they are allowed to walk or ride bicycles to and from school. Parents have also been sent copies of school safety rules for children walking to and from school.

Bishop Tibbets Opens Nevada Church Conference

A transcribed speech by Bishop Donald H. Tibbets set off the local participation in the California-Nevada Conference Methodist Ministers' Reserve Pension Fund Campaign, on Sunday, Oct. 21, at the regular Sunday morning service at the Campbell Methodist Church.

The California-Nevada Conference has adopted a Reserve Pension Plan typical of that which business and industry follow—whereby the church invests a certain amount and the minister deposits 2 per cent of his salary. This money is invested by the General Board of Pensions and when a minister retires, there is a definite amount of money available to provide for his retiring years. During the next sixty days churches throughout the Conference will be raising funds for the reserve with which to operate the assigned its proportionate share. plan. Each church has been The total sum to be raised is $882,000.00. The share of the Campbell Methodist Church is $4,204.00.

An "Every Member Visitation" is planned starting this week to invite all members to share in this campaign as an appreciation of what their ministers mean to them and to their community.

The Executive committee for Campbell will be headed by Mr. Lawrence J. Hill. Others on the Executive committee are as follows:

Special gifts, Mr. William Lloyd; arrangements, Mrs. Angela Quetin and Mrs. Frank Richardson; secretary, Mrs. Dottie Miller and Miss Aileen Cowdery; publicity, Mrs. R. J. Flagg; canvass chairman, Mr. Howard Guilbert; prospects, Mr. D. H. Cramer and treasurer, Mr. George Kemp.

Four captains, each with a crew of five couples will call on the membership and personally explain the plan.

Cypress School Construction Set For November 1

Campbell Union School District was officially notified this week that bids for the new Cypress School have been approved by the Local Allocations Board. Superintendent William C. Henley said this means that contracts will be signed in a few days, and that building probably will start about November 1.

The school site is on Cypress Avenue, south of Stevens Creek Road, and will be the first of the district's proposed buildings. The program includes five new schools though indications at present are that the state will not allow construction of more than three, because enrollment figures are not as high as had been expected. The state has set October 31 of this year as the deadline on which to figure footage from enrollment figures.

Safety Council Gains Action

The Santa Clara County Safety Council reports that Jerry O'Shea, traffic engineer for the sixth district has promised action at the earliest possible time on improving traffic hazards on the Monterey Highway. The action came following a letter written by the safety council to the Governor's office resuesting temporary action to cut down loss of life on the section of the highway south of Metcalf Road. Action was prompted by the eleventh death in four months on that section of the highway.

Bucs Drop Tilt To Panthers, 19-0

A series of fumbles and inadequate pass defense led to the fourth straight defeat of the season for the Campbell Bucs as the Santa Clara Panthers rolled over them, 19-0 last Friday on the local's field.

A swift passing attack kept the Bucs from breaking into the scoring column as the Panthers took two TD's with their aerial bombardment. First Panther score came on a quick handoff to Coelho who tramped three yards around end into paydirt. A Golden to Vaughn pass in the second quarter gave the Panthers another score. The kick for extra point was good and the half closed with Santa Clara leading 13-0.

A fumble broke up the only Campbell scoring threat of the afternoon when Musladin took a handoff and went to the Panther 10 in the third quarter. The locals drove down to the three, but a fumble gave Santa Clara a chance to pull out of the hole.

A hard charging Buc line broke up a drive by the Panthers early in the last period, but a few plays later a completed pass to Jerry Jacktis set up a Panther score and Roger Cabral drove over for the TD. The try for extra point was good and the Santa Clarans sewed up the tilt at 19-0. Cabral turned in top performances on offense and defense for the visitors. Muir praised the performance of Anderson, Brentlinger, Gleed and Lukehart.

Bucs Sweep Acorns In Cage Contest

A final field goal and a free throw gave the 120 Buc cagers their first win of the season as they squeaked by the Morgan Hill Acorns on the loser's court last Thursday afternoon. With only 15 seconds remaining in the contest, Gary Hoover, still hobbling about on a weak ankle, sank a swisher to tie the game up at 26-all. A free throw resulting from a foul on the shot gave the locals their one point win. Hoover placed as high point man with 12 tallies and Mukai of the Acorns followed with eight.

Following a shaky start, the 110's took their third straight win of the season when they dumped the Acorns 22-17 in the opener. Cage Mentor Bert Robinson attributed the victory to a tight defense on the part of the locals. Manriquez took honors as high point man with eight digits and Hemphill led the Acorns with six.

The lightweights split an earlier game with San Lorenzo with the 110s walking off with honors in a 36-18 win and their big brothers dropped a 50-31 contest. A tight defense gave the 110s their victory while a strong San Lorenzo five proved superior ball handlers to take the 120 tilt. Brann of San Lorenzo and Manriquez and Russo of the Buc squad tied for 110 high point honors with nine each while Yates took honors for the Bucs in the 120 contest with a toal of nine tallies.

SPARTANS HOST LOYOLA TONIGHT

San Jose State starts the second half of its football season tonight at Spartan Stadium playing host to Loyola and Don Klosterman.

The air-minded Lions, still searching for their first win, took advantage of an open date last week to rest for this one. The Spartans, after a horrific trip to cold and rainy Moscow, fell to Idaho, 40-7. The Golden Raiders will be after their second win of the year.

In early games this year, Loyola depended almost entirely upon the pitching arm of record-smasher Klosterman, but in its last game, against Santa Clara, showed a ground attack which promised to make Klosterman's passes more effective.

Last year, Loyola downed the Spartans, 14-7, as George Musacco set a national collegiate record by carrying the ball 45 times. The Lions also set an NCAA record with 80 rushing plays.

Despite Musacco's performance, both Lion scores came on Klosterman passes and he'll be back at the old stand Friday night.

In the rout at Idaho, ends Jerry Perich and Ray Poznekoff and center Tom Cuffe were outstanding and between them accounted for 90 per cent of the Spartan tackles. Coach Bob Bronzan has hopes some of the young Spartan linemen will come to the fore this week with support for this trio. The Golden Raiders will probably again be without the important services of linebackers Dick Bondelie and Bruce Halladay, both knee victims.

Committee Will Remove Antlerless Deer In Siskiyou

Plans of the Oregon-California interstate deer herd committee to protect the deer of the Devil's Garden area of Siskiyou County will go ahead without California Fish and Game Commission approval of a proposal to remove an additional 2,000 antlerless deer.

Commissioners found at their September meeting that is was impossible within existing laws and time limits to set another special hunting season in the area. A regulated shoot will be held between November 3 and November 11 to remove 2,300 antlerless deer.

Interstate committee members reported that the urgency of declaring the original special season has been heightened by recent forest fires which destroyed 25,000 acres of timber and forage in the Devil's Garden area. They urged removal of a total of 8,000 deer in both states during special hunting periods.

Sport Scenes

Contrary to the experts who are picking Stanford as a possible Rose Bowl contender this year, We'll forecast a defeat for the redmen from the farm. To date, the Indians have shown the ability to play up to each of their opponents but they are now going into the toughest half of their schedule. Tomorrow they'll face the Huskies up Washington and following that they'll have to tangle with WSC, USC, Oregon State and California. All of these teams have shown power when called upon and one of them could easily upset the Stanford apple cart. Toughest games of course, will be the contests with Southern California's Trojans and the Golden Bears. Even if the Cards manage to topple mighty Troy, they are liable to find themselves so injury riddled that they will be unable to field a strong team against Oregon State or the Bears. Best bet for the Rose Bowl a this date is Southern Cal against Illinois.

Buc Mentor, Jim Muir, says his boys are in high spirit for the contest against Washington this afternoon. Despite their string of defeats, the locals still seem to have a little fire left in them. Muir says his boys have a good chance to take this one. A wet field would help the Campbellmen even more because it might serve to slow up the Washington air attack. Muir has been giving the boys the works this week in preparation for passing by the gridders from Washington.

He attributes last week's defeat at the hands of the Panthers to a poor pass defense and butter fingers. The Santa Clarans gained 140 yards against the Bucs in passing in the first half alone and fumbles kept the Bucs in the hole all the way through the game.

Congrats to Bert Robinson's 110 cagers for their winning streak of three games. The locals have finally worked up a head of steam after a slow start. Their heavier brothers proved their mettle too when they dumped the Acorns in a 27-26 thriller down in Morgan Hill last week. Gary Hoover took laurels for the game when he sunk a field goal in the last few seconds to tie the ball game. A free throw by Gary cinched the game and the Buc C's captured their first win of the season.

Junior Morgan has high hopes for his Jay Vees when they meet Lincoln next week. He states that his boys will be ready to give them a real game. Big reason for the forecast is the experience which the locals have gained throughout the season. Despite a 33-7 loss to the Lions last week, the Bucbabes are high for the game and should make a good showing.

LARGE AREA IS OPENED TO DUCK HUNTERS

California hunters are members of one of the biggest duck hunting clubs in the nation this year, says the Department of Fish and Game.

For the price of a state hunting license and a federal duck stamp, more than 1,000 shooters at a time can be accomodated on 1,500 acres of the best duck shooting areas in the west.

When the 60-day waterfowl hunting season starts at noon Friday, the gates of seven state-operated waterfowl management areas will be thrown open to hunters on a first-come, first-served basis. Permits will be issued at designated checking stations on each area.

In addition to the free shooting, a $5 fee will be charged for the use of blinds on portions of the Merced, Grizzly Island and Imperial areas. To secure the use of blinds, hunters must register on the day preceding the hunt. Shooting grounds are open Wednesday, Saturday, Sunday, holidays and opening and closing days of each season.

High School PTA Tours Buildings

Members of the Campbell Union High School Parent-Teachers Association were conducted on a tour of new high school buildings at a recent meeting held at the school. The high school string trio entertained the group with several musical selections.

Principal Laurance J. Hill told members of the group of the importance of the PTA and of some of the duties it performs in aiding the school. He told his audience of the problems of the school in meeting the increased enrollment. Following his address, Hill introduced teachers of the school to the group.

Mrs. Eugen C. Andres Jr., led a panel discussion of "Family Fun," and several of the parents present told of their activities with their children.

Members were served a cafeteria supper with Mrs. James Gleed, members of the El Oso Hi-Y and girls from the home economics classes assisting. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. John Cantoni.

Kerr Summarizes Reports On Cost Of Operating City Of Campbell

each year, depending on population and revenues available for distribution.

In addition to property-taxes and state aid, the city of Campbell may obtain revenue from such sources as court fines and penalties, business license fees, departmental permits, charges for services, grants of privileges, etc. Through consultation with city officials and other authorities, the writer arrives at a conservative estimate of $3.14 per unit of population, or an aggregate of around $24,000 during first year of Campbell operation.

In order to arrive at a conclusion as to money required during first year of city operation, the performances of comparable California cities were studied and expert data obtained. The result is a per capita estimate of: $1.36 for capital outlays; $4.64 expenses; and, a $6.00 total. The aggregate for Campbell being: $10,880 capital; $37,120 expense; or, a total of $48,000.

The cost estimates are predicated on a minimum yet adequate service at the beginning of city operations. The suggested salaries as previously published in The Campbell Press under various titles, are based on Campbell requirements, and do not contemplate employment of "high-priced" experts. If the aldermen you elect to office as a city council cannot operate Campbell under the proposed budget allowance, it might be a case of "I won't do it."

In order that the reader may more readily visualize and grasp the purport of the previously described items, the per capita revenues and expenses follow in tabular form:

CITY INCOME

Motor vehicle license fees	$3.69
Gasoline Tax	2.87
Court Fines and Penalties	1.70
Business license fees	.80
Departmental Permits	.30
Alcoholic Control Act	.30
Fees, charges for Services	.24
Privileges	.10
Franchises (no estimate)	.00
Income without property-tax	$10.00
Property taxes (not necessary)	.90
Total City Income	$10.00

CITY OUTLAYS	Capital	Expenses	Total
Administration	$ —	$ .90	$ .90
Town Hall	.23	.12	.35
Protection (Police-Fire)	.54	2.26	2.80
Public Works	.29	.61	.90
Sanitation-health	—	.50	.50
Contingencies	.30	.25	.55
Total city outlay	$1.36	$4.64	$6.00

Mr. Taxpayer, what would you do if you saw $19.68 lying on your door step? Well, this is the amount the State of California is willing to give your city of Campbell for EACH registered voter residing within the corporate limits.

Grange Holds Halowe'en Dance Tuesday Night

Members of the Orchard City Grange attended their annual Hallowe'en dress up party and dance in the Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening. Director of the festivities, A. J. Emery, was costumed as a pirate king and others came garbed as goblins, clowns and other Hallowe'en costumes. Visitors from the Almaden Grange attended dressed as an "Amos and Andy" delegation. Music was furnished by Mervyn Keesling and the refreshment committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Shadle, Mrs. Grace Givens, Mrs. Blanche Gilpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Blackmun.

A report on the Campbell Harvest Festival was read to the group and members gave a vote of thanks to the Campbell Lumber company for furnishing lumber for construction of the booth.

A check for $300 was presented to the Grange for awards won in the county fair.

Ernest Angelo, master of the Cupertino Grange gave a talk on rainfall figures in the locality and commented on recent efforts to stimulate rainmaking. Angelo is in possession of rainfall figures dating back to 1850.

Members who participated in the recent State Grange convention held in San Jose included Harry Barnes, state executive committeeman, who was reelected to that post; Mervyn Keesling, who served as captain of the drill team and had charge of fifth degree ceremonies; Mrs. Virginia Rutherford, who directed the women's choir; and Mrs. Mervyn Keesling, who served as a member of the committee for decorations for the fifth degree.

ROBERT J. SAIA ENTERS DARTMOUTH

Robert J. Saia of 550 Cambrian Dr., Campbell, is a member of the incoming freshman class at Dartmouth College, it was announced by Albert I. Dickerson, director of admissions. Saia is a graduate of Campbell Union High School.

FIRST STORM BRINGS RAIN TO CAMPBELL

First rain of the season Wednesday gave Campbell .60 of rainfall and brought the seasonal total up to the same figure. Greatest value of the rain was to orchard cover crops, most of which were planted at the time of the rain. Some strawberry and tomatoe crops face spoilage if the rain continues. Walnuts however are not likely to be harmed unless the rain continues over a prolonged period.

Fair weather is predicted for today and Saturday.

Normal to date .58 inch; this year to date .60 inch; 1050 to date 1.83 inches; Normal annual rainfall 13.14.

Two Escape Harm In Train-Truck Crash Wednesday

Rober Groteguth, 20, Route 3, box 470, Los Gatos, and Jack Thorpe, 16, student of Campbell High School and resident of Saratoga escaped injury when the truck which Groteguth was driving was demolished when it struck a train at the crossing of Pollard road and the Southern Pacific railroad tracks Wednesday night. Thorpe, who was a passenger in the truck, jumped when he saw the collision was pending and Groteguth rode the truck out until the train drew to a stop. The front of the truck cab was sheared off and portions of the load of 200 boxes of prunes were strewn over the road and tracks. Impact was so great that the train was drawn into a siding for repairs.

Teachers Exchange Ideas At Meet

Fourteen first grade teachers of Campbell district met Tuesday for the first of a series of meetings that will be devoted to exchanging ideas and techniques used in their teaching. The meetings, conducted by Curriculum Coordinator Helen Petersen, will cover areas of numbers, writing, reading, social studies and science. They are intended to give teachers a chance to compare methods with a view to improving their own techniques.

Virginia Bese Is Honored At State Homemaker Meet

Campbell Future Homemakers were honored with the presentation of State Degrees to two local representatives attending the State Convention of Future Homemakers Association recently. Recipients of the degree were Virgina Bese, state president, and Delegate Anna Thielman.

Theme of the Asilomar convention, which was attended by more than 600 delegates throughout the state, was "Looking Toward A New Horizon." Other Campbell delegates were Loretta Barrett, Mickie Montero and Janet Marovich.

Awards were presented at a banquet held Saturday, October 13, at which time Virginia Bese, retiring president, installed the new president of the organization. Only four other awards were presented to delegates attending the convention, giving Campbell the lions share.
